

Seniors Present Banks As Class Day Speaker

Dr. Murray Banks, professor, author, newspaper columnist, and lecturer will be the senior class day speaker for Wednesday assembly on October 18, announces Ollie Vee Walpole, senior class president.

Dr. Banks is known as one of "America's most entertaining speakers." He is a psychologist and an expert on problems of life, love, and marriage. He has spoken widely on these topics to hundreds of groups from coast to coast. Because he blends psychology and humor so expertly, Dr. Bank's reputation as a humorist is now equal to his reputation as a psychologist. He has the rare ability to talk to human beings about themselves in a way they can understand and enjoy. Audiences are moved by his depth of understanding, his sincerity, and the charm with which he discusses human nature and modern psychology for better living.

N.Y.U. Graduate

Dr. Banks is a graduate of New York and Columbia Universities in New York City. He did his clinical work at Bellevue Hospital in clinical psychopathology. He is author of numerous articles on love, marriage, and mental health. In addition to his duties as a practicing clinical psychologist, he is a professor of psychology and was in charge of the psychology department of Pace College, New York City, for over five years. He has also been a visiting professor on various subjects at New York University, Brooklyn College, and New Jersey State Teachers College.

Get Caps And Gowns

On the Tuesday night before their class day, the seniors will officially be capped and gowned in Wilson Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. with the Reverend McCabe from the Episcopal Church in Harrisonburg as speaker.

Then Wednesday at twelve noon, in the procession will be the faculty, seniors, class officers, sponsors, and mascots, all in academic attire. The invocation and scripture by Reverend Blackwell will precede Dean Gifford's introduction of the speaker. The recessional with Mr. George R. Hicks at the organ will follow Dr. Bank's speech.

In the tea room at one o'clock luncheon will be served for the senior class officers, their sister class officers, and

Sieg, Pinney Represent FSC at Workshop

Miss Martha D. Sieg, State Club Advisor of the College Clubs, and Miss Ann Pinney, delegate from the Frances Sale Club, are attending the Province II workshop for college clubs department of the American Home Economics Association, October 13 and 14, at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. The Workshop will be entertained on the college campus. The program will include a study of the program of work of the college club department of the A.H.E.A.

guests. At six o'clock the formal banquet will be held in junior dining hall. Everyone is invited to senior class night at eight o'clock in the auditorium. "Keys to Happiness," the general theme, will be a reminiscence of how each past year is a key to future happiness of the '51 seniors.

Senior Leaders

The senior leaders are Ollie Vee Walpole, president; Rosamond Leonard, vice-president; Jane Moyer, secretary; Nancy Garth, treasurer; Margaret Garwood, reporter; Mary Kasey, sergeant-at-arms; Anna Lee Bowman, business manager; sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bocksey; and mascots, Buddy and Barbara Bocksey.

Heading the committees for class day are Rosamond Leonard, chapel program; Anna Lee Bowman, "gowning"; Jane Moyer, luncheon; Margaret Garwood, senior banquet; Martha Gray Johnson, Rita Jarvis, and Shirley Colbert, decorations; Mary Kasey and Nancy Garth, invitations; Margaret Poling and Mary Sue Murdock, place cards; and Ollie Vee Walpole, class night program.

Teachers to Attend Science Conference

On Saturday, October 14, approximately one hundred of the Elementary School Teachers of Rockingham County will attend a science conference at Madison College. The program for the day will include a discussion of Primary and Elementary School science problems led by Mr. Paul Blackwood, specialist in Elementary School Science, U. S. Office of Education, and group work on simple projects which can later be carried out in the schools of the county. The teachers will work with science materials under the direction of advanced college students and science faculty members.

Betty Viar, Betty Ann Landers, Mary Ellen Orr, Sally Barron, Jo Ann Thrasher and Dorothy White.

Bonnie Gordon and Wells Peabworth were delegates for the day students and men students, while Mary Stuart Rhodes and Hazel Carter, members of the International Relations Club also assisted. Phyllis Jones and Irene Gilpin also aided in the drive.

After the completion of the drive, Dr. Raymond Dingleline, chairman, states, "I appreciate the cooperation of the student body, faculty, staff and those students whose assistance in circulating the freedom scrolls made the drive possible."

Ex Libris Honors Librarians At Tea

Members of the Ex Libris Club presented a tea, honoring Mr. C. W. Dickinson, supervisor of school libraries and textbooks in Virginia, and Mr. R. C. Haydon, assistant superintendent of public instruction, both attending the district G Meeting.

Guests attending the tea were librarians here for the meeting and students taking library science courses.

Pouring at the tea, held in Alumnae Hall, was Miss Showalter, assistant librarian. Chrysanthemums decorated the table.

'YW' Membership Drive Features Special Contest

Eva Shuler, chairman of the membership drive for Y.W.C.A., announces the "Y's" campaign for members which will commence Monday, October 16.

Highlighting the week will be a contest to name the "Y" mascot, a small doll, which will be on display in the P. O. lobby during the week. Special recognition will go to the submitter of the winning name.

Chief Aim

As its chief aim, the group plans to encourage campus participation in its activities and students as well as faculty are urged to co-operate in the drive. Eva explains, "We will launch our drive with an assembly on Monday. The "Y" cabinet will present the program which is a preview of the work planned for the year."

Assisting the "Y" are the counselors who will assume their positions in a complete canvass. There are one hundred and twenty "Y" counselors which include Agness Dingleline, Margaret Gilbert, Edna King, Lorraine Woodyard, Barbara Spaulding, Chris Lucy, Bess Bryant, Jane Moyer, Ollie Vee Walpole, and Miriam Gore.

More Counselors

Also aiding are Jo Almarode, Betty Anderson, Patsy Black, Betty George Ramsey, Catherine Cockrill, Homer Lynn Peters, Patty Bell, Fae Wilson, and Bev Brooks, Marilyn Miller, Audrey Pinchbeck, Eva Schuler, Doje Wood, Fran Mosely, Bobbie Watkins, Petie Lockhart, Doris Davis, Betty Hammoch, Jeanette Cocke, Martha Hardy, Audrey Humphries, Mancha Holland, Martha Moore, Margaret Elliott, Joyce Bowie, Marian Marshall, Patt King.

So On And On

Other helpers were Shirley Colbert, Jean Young, Jackie Brooks, Juanita Holloman, Dana Gatto, Polly Walker, Nancy Garth, Juanita Cocke, Hiwana Cupp, Cora Blackmore, Ann Garrett, Dot Crowder, Coleen Calvert, Ann Williams, Claudenia Carmen, Molly Kennette, Julia Carter, Jean Manuel, Martha Ann Snyder, and Jean Douglas.

Tabulations of the progress made by each dormitory, which will act as a team, will be posted on a chart in Harrison at the end of each day.

"How can the Y.W.C.A. be more meaningful and effective?" is to be the theme for Friday Chapel. Climaxing the week will be the annual Y.W.C.A. candlelight service which is a recognition of "Y" members. "This service is considered by many students to be one of the most impressive and beautiful events in our campus life," concludes Eva.

Pictures to Remain on File

Graduating seniors are to leave six pictures in Dean Gifford's office for placement purposes. If you are not having them made by the photographer now on campus, please see Mrs. Branch for suggestions.

At a later date, six data blanks will be filled in for the placement file.

Don't Forget!

Don't forget the Square Dance tonight in Reed Gym. All students and dates are invited. Girls are asked to dress in cotton skirts and blouses and wear soft sole shoes, i.e. tennis, crepe sole, or saddle shoes. Boys may wear dungarees. The coke machine will be in use and the proceeds go to the Recreation Council.

Oliver Davis Joins Faculty As Instructor In Geography

by Lorene Purcell

Mr. Oliver Davis, from Keysville Virginia, has joined the faculty.

NEW PROFESSOR

Madison College this year as instructor in geography.

Mr. Davis received his B.A. from Berea College in Berea, Kentucky, and his M.S. in geography from the University of Virginia. He is now working on his Doctor of Education degree at the University. The islands in the Central Pacific are his special field of study.

During the war, he served in the armed forces. From 1942 to 1946 he was in the army, and part of this time was spent overseas in the Pacific theater.

Hunting and fishing are this instructor's favorite hobbies. He also has a special interest in palmyristy.

Mr. Davis is married and has a four-year-old son.

When asked what he thought of Madison, Mr. Davis said that he likes Madison very much and hopes to stay here. He added, "I like Harrisonburg, and I like the people here."

A Privilege, A Responsibility

Monday we amended the student government constitution to make provision for refilling S.G.A. positions when any officer elected the previous spring resigns.

We decided that the Council should make a temporary appointment and a re-election would be held later. This election will probably take place soon. The offices vacant are important ones—vice-presidency and that of recorder of points. We should not vote for such vital officers without first giving a great deal of thought to the candidates.

We wanted to vote for these officers rather than have them appointed by the council; let's make our choice a wise one.

This election won't hold all the excitement of spring elections—posters, banners, speeches and campaign managers working themselves into a frenzy—nevertheless, they're important!

Voting is a privilege, but it's also a responsibility. By our vote it was decided that these vacancies should be filled by election; by our vote only can they be filled. Our officers can be true representatives of the student body only if we, the members of the student body, get out and vote!

Should Bus Service Improve?

In connection with the many new developments on campus, including more road construction, the old subject of bus service has been brought up again. Since the bus is the only possible means of transportation in or out of Harrisonburg, we, the students, again appeal for better service. We are not complaining about the service we're getting, but we feel that, without inconveniencing the bus company, we could have better accommodations.

Why not make provisions for a Greyhound Bus route through campus on Sunday evenings and on nights specified for the return of students after a holiday? The students coming from Richmond, Roanoke, and other points south are forced to carry and "push" their luggage, be it one or five pieces from Main Street to their dormitories. It isn't so bad if they happen to live in the sorority house-dormitories along the street, but when it comes to girls living in Jackson, Alumnae, Sheldon, and others, it's a pretty serious business.

As far as the ones of us who ride the south bound bus are concerned, we're certainly all for the idea. It's not any fun to be pushed off a bus in the cold dampness of a bus station only to find your luggage on that "other" bus. It wouldn't be so bad waiting patiently for the time to claim your suitcase if you could then turn and walk into the dormitory. But, no—we must rush for a taxi, only to find we must wait again. Then to find that quarter. Finally we reach our humble abodes.

These buses have regular routes through other colleges so it must not be an impossibility—why not save the girls that extra trouble. We sincerely hope that the administration and the bus company will consider this problem.

J. S. D.

ATTENTION!

Mr. James L. Delk will be in Alumnae Hall Tuesday, October 17, from twelve noon to six p. m. All juniors and seniors desiring to order class rings should do so at this time.

'Blue-Stone Hill' is Old Madison Song

Wayland Tune: JUANITA
Fair on yon mountain

Gleams the light of morning skies;
Firm on yon hill crest
Blue-Stone towers rise;
Proudly waves Old Glory,
White and red and blue above,
Writ with freedom's story,
Sign of truth and love.

Chorus

Mater, Alma Mater,
Though afar, we bless thee still;
And may love forever
Smile on Blue-Stone Hill.
Far o'er the Valley,
When at eve the world is still;
Shine through the gloaming
Lights of Blue-Stone Hill.
Thus, afar out-streaming,
O'er the land and o'er the sea,
Like the stars e'er gleaming
May the glory be.
Queen of the Valley,
Alma Mater, thou shalt be;
Round thee shall rally
Those who honor thee.
All thy daughters loyal,
One in heart and one in will,
Many gifts and royal
Bring to Blue-Stone Hill.
Noon, night, and morning
We attend thy signal bell,
True to its warning
Till we say farewell.
Through the years swift winging
Oft will come a quickening thrill—
In the soul still ringing
Bells of Blue-Stone Hill.

Does The Y W C A Help You?

Question of the week:

How has being a member of the Y.W.C.A. helped you most?

Betty Umphlette—Junior—Being a member of the "Y" has brought the spiritual side of campus life closer to me through Christian associations with girls on campus.

Elizabeth Anne Mayes—Junior—I think that being a "Y" member has given me and every other member a feeling of closer union with each other. In this way our lives are enriched here.

Fae Wilson—Junior—I think one of the most important things our "Y" does is to continue the regular Wednesday night dorm devotions. I feel that these programs have helped me so many times, especially during exam weeks when the few extra moments of prayer and devotions seem to lift a burden.

Ding Miller—Junior—The "Y" has been of great benefit to me in that it has helped me to keep a close relationship with God all through the week instead of being a so-called Sunday Christian.

Peggy Hamrick—Sophomore—Being a member of the "Y" means a great deal to me. It is a fine and worthy organization which does a great deal through its Sunday vespers and other inspiring programs.

Patricia Rogers—Senior—Life on campus is always busy so that the pen-sive, quiet worship of Religious Emphasis Week always revives my love of Madison and God.

Betty Viar—Junior—I think that the plan of big sister and little sisters was one of the most helpful things that our "Y" has done. Certainly no other plan could have been as effective as this one in making new students feel at home and helping them to get acquainted at Madison.

Judy Granger, Junior—The YWCA has helped me to realize the importance of Christian fellowship among the girls at Madison.

Emma Lou Clark, Junior—The "Y" has helped me most by bringing me closer to the girls on campus in a spiritual sense. Through its various activities such as Sunday vespers and Saturday night singspirations I have realized what a vital organization our "Y" is.

Week Features Fire Prevention

Throughout the United States, this week has been set aside as National Fire Prevention Week. Fire, in all its terrible phases, kills nearly 1,000 people each month, and annual damage from fire amounts to millions of dollars. With losses in life and wealth mounting each year, it is important that each person know the rules he should follow to prevent fires and what he should do in case of one. It is panic, resulting from terror, that causes the loss of most lives, and terror comes from not knowing what to do.

Some "do's" and "don'ts" that apply especially on the college campus are:

Don'ts

1. Don't smoke in bed.
2. Don't throw away a match or cigarette until you are sure it is out.
3. Don't leave electrical appliances, such as irons, unattended with the current on.
4. Don't allow trash to collect.

Do's

1. Do know how to report a fire.
2. Do turn in an alarm as soon as you detect a fire. (It doesn't even cost a nickel!)
3. Do stay calm.
4. Do know where fire extinguishers are located and how to use them.
5. Do use only fireproof paper for decorations. This is required by State Fire Regulations in decorations for dances on campus.
6. Do report any faulty light fixtures.
7. Do co-operate in fire drills. Close the windows, turn on the light, put on coat and shoes, and leave the door

Miller Announces Faculty Committee

At the faculty meeting on Tuesday night, President Miller announced that the new committee to work with the Honor Council and its advisors will consist of Mrs. Bernice R. Varner, Dr. Caroline Sinclair, Dr. Raymond Dingledine, and Mr. Clyde P. Shorts.

This group will make a study of the honor principles in relation to receiving and giving help on class work. A uniform system is to be established for all professors to use and will go into effect as soon as it has been completed.

At a recent meeting of the Virginia Dietetic Association Mrs. B. R. Varner of the Home Economics Department was made Virginia delegate to the national meeting of the American Dietetic Association to be held in Washington, D. C., October 16 to 20. This is the first time the national meeting has been held in this region since the meeting in Richmond in 1937. Mrs. Varner will be one of the hostesses for the meeting.

open. Go quickly, using the proper exit, well beyond the building. Be prompt in answering the roll-call. Be quiet during the fire drill. Return to the room at the proper signal.

The City Fire Department has staged demonstrations on campus in the use of the fire extinguisher. Sylvia Jackson, campus fire chief, reports that co-operation in the fire program so far has been good and asks for continued co-operation in the future.

Something To Chat About . . .

by Bess Bryant

Do you get a copy of The Breeze each week? We want you to have one and there're always enough to go around.

If you don't go to dinner on Friday night and therefore don't get a Breeze, you may get one on Saturday or later. Pick up your copy in The Breeze room or from the table just inside Dean Gifford's outer office. Day students may get their sheet in the day students room, Harrison Hall.

The Breeze is financed chiefly through campus fees. You've paid for your copy already. Be sure to get it and read all the news!

In The Breeze, you may read college papers from most of the other schools in the state. Hop by and look at the papers on our bulletin board just inside the door. You may enjoy them!

In one of the social science classes this week, the Korean war was being discussed. Someone had heard a report that pictures taken by the air force showed Communist troops retreating as far north as the Manchurian border. That conflicted with what another student had heard, that the Communists were sending more reserves down to fight. One bright student remarked, "Maybe someone had the camera backward!"

Football is really in the air with everyone journeying here and there to see his favorite team play. The teams from the state of Virginia seem to hold the most interest, though we must admit that they don't always come out on the top half of the score. Anyway, it's a grand sport!

Southern colleges are now being forced to meet an awkward situation. For centuries their doors have been closed to Negro students. Recently, because of decisions handed down by the Supreme Court, they have been forced to admit Negroes. If the situation is to be avoided, the south, with its prides and prejudices which only Southerners can truly understand, must take hurried steps to insure that educational facilities for Negroes are equal to those offered other students. But should we object to attending classes with any other scholar, regardless of race or creed? That is a question which deserves our most serious thought.

Turkey is now associated with the North Atlantic Pact countries. This fact might prove quite important to the defense of Western Europe, in case of aggression. Airbases in Turkey might be the only thing that could hold Russia back for several months.

In the event of another war—and the war clouds continue to gather—will women be called into service? Grab your mates now, girls! Maybe they won't take married women!

Remember that the free passes for those people whose names appear for that reason in this paper each week, are for the Virginia Theatre. Take a copy of The Breeze which contains your name with you to the theatre, present some identification, and you will be allowed to see the movie of your choice without paying admission.

Greek Gossip

Zeta Tau Alpha will celebrate its Founders' Day on Monday, October 16. They will begin their day of planned activities with breakfast in the tea room. The sorority was founded at Longwood College, October 15, 1898.

Miss Glada B. Walker, sponsor for Zeta Tau Alpha, has been released from the Rockingham Memorial Hospital.

Mary Bob Sewell, Elsie Thornhill, and Margie Hoffman all visited the Tri Sigmas at Sprinkel House while attending the teachers' conference here last Friday.

Sprinkel House was also visited this past weekend by Natalie Bowman, Irene Munson, and Margaret "Chap-pie" Chapman.

Early Sunday morning "Mama" Ding arose and had a delicious breakfast ready when the breakfast bell rang for all the Tri Sigmas.

Lynette Gunell, another Sigma, received a diamond from Tommy Whitley, this past summer. Plans for their wedding are for the near future. Tommy is now a student at the University of North Carolina where he is a member of Pi Gamma Phi.

Betty Hurdle Ossman and her mother visited the Pi Kappa Sigmas this past Sunday night. Betty is now working at the University of Virginia Hospital and living in Charlottesville where her husband is working on his engineering degree.

Anne Roane Hill, another former Pi Kap, also visited Shenandoah Apartments over the weekend.

Peggy Turner of Alpha Sigma Alpha received a diamond from Bobby Johnson of Bedford, Virginia, on Thursday, October 5.

Kitty Funkhouser, Betty Rheinhart, and Dianna Dobbs Groves visited Theta Sigma Upsilon Friday, October 6.

Messick House had a swimming and hair-washing party last Wednesday night. It was followed by refreshments of doughnuts and cider. As guests were Miss Brady and Miss Herr, with a "Happy Birthday" to Miss Brady.

Eva Joe Liskey has been newly elected as Panhellenic representative to succeed Betty George Ramsey.

Congratulations to Cora Blackmore for having been elected 4H All Star President.

Essay Contest Open To Madison Students

An essay contest of special interest to Madison students is being sponsored by the Virginia Society of Colonial Dames. "James Madison, Father of the Constitution," will be the subject of the original essays submitted by undergraduates of Virginia colleges. The essay chosen best will win $200 for the writer.

All essays must be the original work of the person who submits it; and must contain footnotes and bibliography. Recasts of already published work will not be accepted.

Judging will be on the basis of style and originality. Neatness, accuracy and punctuation will also be considered.

Essays must be between 2,500 and 4,000 words in length; and must be in the hands of the judging committee before May 1, 1951.

Complete contest rules may be secured from Mr. McIlwraith or any professor in the history department.

Perils Of Pauline!

by Patt King

Now Miss Pauline is a typical house-mother on our campus. Poor Pauline is always so busy running around after all the girls. Her day begins at six-forty-five. First of all, after a long and sleepless night, she arises to greet the early hour of dawn. The dorm seems fairly quiet—this is the only time—everyone is "dead" after playing bridge half the night. Breakfast at 7:15 . . . Pauline rushes around and at last she's ready to trip over to the dining hall. After a delicious breakfast, she can't taste, because of a cold, Pauline walks slowly back to the dorm. My, the girls are up and beginning already! In and out all day long . . . Pauline is so bored but she can't leave—what if an emergency should arise?

The day ends and our heroine is ready to settle down for a quiet evening. After a few phone calls she relaxes with a True Confessions. All of a sudden there's a knock . . . no, it's a bang . . . no, it's the physical education majors! Now wouldn't you just know they'd live right above Pauline! Well, that can't go on all night, so rushing up the steps, she finds the source of the penetrating explosion. After it's all over she begins her reading again.

Here we go again . . . 10:30 and here come the girls. Pauline remembers the good ole days and so she permits the girls to stay out until the last minute, she's getting ready for bed. The door bell rings and poor dear housemother . . . she forgot someone! Girls all accounted for and the noise is slowly dying down . . . that is, except for a few screams down the hall and a flush here 'n there. At last sleep-peaceful and calm—br rr rrrr . . . What the bell again, and it's 12:30. Well, she was sorry she didn't catch the early bus, but Nelson wouldn't let her . . . now wasn't that sweet of him to want her to stay, and really Pauline didn't mind getting up in the middle of the night just to let her in. She's used to it. Again, settled down in bed, she drifts into dreamland. Her dreams??? Nightmares, just plain nightmares! They are so horrible that poor exhausted Pauline is thankful to awaken the next morning and find she is still on this campus surrounded by nature's beauty and our Madison girls.

but of course, that's not long enough. Pauline has locked the doors and now

Jackie Brooks Represents Madison At Leadership Training Camp

by Jean Douglas

Another Madisonite to attend a leadership training school this past summer was Jackie Brooks, president of Sigma Phi Lambda. Jackie also represents the sophomore class on Student Government and is former president of her class.

Camp Miniwanca, located at Shelby, Michigan, was the school Jackie attended. She was there the first two weeks of August. This camp is sponsored by the American Youth Foundation. William H. Danforth, author of I Dare You, sponsors the scholarships which are offered at the different colleges and high schools throughout the world and which entitle the winners of these scholarships to attend the training school. Jackie is the first to represent Madison for quite a few years. Mr. Warren represents the Danforth scholarship on Madison's campus.

585 Attend

Approximately five hundred eighty-five people, including leaders, attended the camp. They represented every state in the union, with the exception of two, and many other countries; namely, India, Korea, Germany, Canada, China, Hawaii, etc. The whole camp was operated on an Indian theme. The campers were all divided into different tribes, and each tribe had its chief.

When asked to describe Camp Miniwanca, Jackie began by explaining that its main purpose is to produce better leaders; intellectually, physically, spiritually, and socially. The camp covers 300 acres and is located on sand dunes along the shores of Lake Michigan. The people literally camped out. To complete the Indian effect produced by the tents, there were totem poles located at different points over the camping area. All sports were offered including archery, tennis, sailing, etc.

Up At 6:15

Each day began at 6:15 a. m. with a good swim in the waters of Lake Michigan. Then the campers had breakfast and made ready for classes which started at 8:00. Jackie took six courses while at school. Her first class was "Fourfold Life Development." The students discussed the ways of developing a well-rounded life, intellectually, physically, spiritually, and socially. The next course was entitled, "The Life and Teachings of Jesus."

Dr. William B. Courtney, pastor of a large Presbyterian Church in Nashville, Tennessee, and author of I Believe, But, was instructor. "The Art of Creative Living," a discussion of the philosophy of life, was another course Jackie studied.

Jackie says that perhaps her most interesting study was "Principles of Leadership" which offered tips and principles on the subject of leadership. The students presented problems they had encountered as leaders. These were discussed and conclusions were drawn by the group. Jackie says this is where she put in a plug for Madison. She introduced the point system which was accepted and taken back to some of the schools. Jackie also took a course in public speaking and one in physical education.

Sports Too!

Classes ended at 2:00 p. m. and the remainder of the day was spent in competition in sports between tribes. Incidentally, Madison's representative, a physical education major, made a grand showing in a tennis tournament. Every evening services were held on Vesper Dune, a huge sand dune where the campers looked out over Lake Michigan and witnessed what Jackie described as the most gorgeous sunset she ever expects to see. Night's Doings followed Vespers and the campers were shown different entertainment each night.

No Dull Moments

Many very unusual things located on the camp site left the campers with "never a dull moment." The "Church of the Dunes" located there is constructed of logs, and the pillars supporting the church and roof are actual trees. Another very unusual sight is a shrine containing the ashes from the burned body of John Alexander, a Scottish emigrant, who founded the camp. Jackie concluded in saying "It is the most wonderful camp I have ever attended. It would be a help and a great inspiration to anyone."

Girls Prepare For Triumphant Year

I guess all Madison students know what a fine job our extramural hockey team did last year. They had a successful year under the coaching of Miss Hartman. Well, the team and Miss Hartman are back on the job again. The girls practice four nights a week, preparing for the first game of the season. (They are fighting hard for those new purple tunics and yellow shirts which have a splashy emblem on them!) They are out there, dribbling, passing, tackling, and doing all kinds of things to get in tip-top shape for the game with William and Mary, here on our home field, October 14. They are working hard, hoping that it will mean a victory for them this Saturday. We're all for them! Our future on the hockey field this season looks bright. So, here's hoping we see every Madison student at this game on Saturday afternoon. Let's get back of Miss Hartman and that team of ours on Saturday. Be there when they take the field to clash with William and Mary. May the final score spell victory for the Madison Duchesses!

If you are interested, here is a list of the squad. The final cuts have not been made; no definite line-up has been picked. So, here is the list of names from which the team will be picked.

Rowls, Bluet, Sorenson, R., Cockrill, Birch, Riddleberger, Webb, Pond, Henley, Cauley, Long, Turner, Harris, Sheffield, Nelson, Plumb, Hardy, Funkhouser, Quesenberry, Kindig, Woodyard, Carmen, Matz, Ramsey, Epperson, Sweet, House, and Cocke. To make it easy for you, cut out this schedule and carry it in your wallet, or tack it on your bulletin board.

Hockey Schedule 1950-51

Madison Duchesses

October 14—William and Mary, home.
October 21—Alumnae (Petersburg Club), home.
October 25—Sweetbriar, away.

Le Cercle Francais Initiates Seventeen

Le Cercle Francais received seventeen new members into the club at an initiation service held in Reed Hall Wednesday night. These new members are Sarah Thomas, Annie Marie Moxey, Rachel Lee Roberson, Frances Courtney, Isabelle Travers, Ann Hutcheson, Ann Painter, Betty Lou Walters, Betty Jean Hammack, William Robinson, Ann Callender, Kathrine Turpin, Margaret Knisely, Rose Abbott, Myrtle Goodrick, Sheila Nelson, and Isabel Johnson.

An orientation program featured a meeting of the club on October 4. Katherine Ward, president, led a discussion on the aims, constitution, and purpose of the club.

Officers of Le Cercle Francais recently met with their sponsor, Dr. Woelfel, to discuss plans for the year. Among things discussed were a get-together at Dr. Woelfel's home in November, the traditional Christmas Chapel program which is always sponsored by the club, and a program for the entertainment of the group of French and Spanish teachers who will meet here in the spring. Plans were made for the orientation program for prospective members and also for the initiation service.

Opening Dance Planned

The annual opening dance, sponsored by the Social Committee, will be held in Reed Gymnasium on November 11. Beverly Owens, chairman of the committee, has announced that the Southernares will play.

Bids will be around three dollars and will go on sale in Harrison Hall November 2.

All Stars Choose Blackmore, Prexy

At a meeting held from October 6-8, Cora Blackmore, a senior and editor of the Schoolma'am, was elected president of the 4H All Star Conference held in Newport, Rhode Island.

Cora left by car last Thursday along with five other girls, including Carolyn Caricofe, President Miller's secretary. All together there were ten representing the Virginia Chapter of 4H All Stars.

The theme of this conference was "Better Living for a Better World." While there, Cora met All Star members from Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia. In her spare time Cora journeyed up to Boston just sight-seeing. There she visited "The Breakers"—the home of Vanderbilt, often read about in history.

On her trip back home, Cora spent the night in New York City and visited many places of interest. She said that she learned what a "tonic" was. (That's the Northern expression for a milk shake. She also added, "I actually love french-fries, but I didn't especially like them along with eggs three times a day." (Her roommate disagreed on this point, but it must be remembered that she's from the North.)

When asked whether she liked her trip, Cora replied, "I had loads of fun, and the country was beautiful, but give me Ole Virginia anytime."

The Spotlight ..

by Margie Epperson

Ah! Yes! There's good news tonight. What is it? Why the double header hockey game tomorrow afternoon, Saturday, October 14. The event starts promptly at 2 o'clock, with Madison playing host, first, to the team from William and Mary.

Then at 3 p. m. the Madison team will "pit their wits" against the team from the nearby Bridgewater College.

After the games, the lucky members of all the teams will attend a tea in Alumnae Hall. By then they will all probably need some nourishment!

The teams and coaches from William and Mary will be guests on Madison Campus for the night, and we are counting on all of you to help make their stay a very pleasant one.

Now that you know about this event, we are expecting to see you all out on the hockey field promptly at 2 O'clock. Your team will be out there fighting for good ole' Madison, so let's be there and give them moral support. Remember there is plenty of room for everyone and plenty of wide open space for all to air their lungs in cheers.

Business Club Visits County Farm Bureau

Last night the students in the business curricula visited the Rockingham Co-operative Farm Bureau. As an introduction to the tour, the students met on campus with Mr. W. F. Prickett, of Prickett's Stationery Store. Mr. Prickett explained the office filing system which he planned for the new co-operative building. This description gave the business students a clearer understanding of the arrangements necessary for an efficiently operated modern office. Following this explanation, a tour was made of the Farm Bureau conducted by Mr. E. B. Kaylor, assistant manager. In addition to the offices, various other departments of interest in the Rockingham Co-operative Farm Bureau were visited.

"THE SHAMPOO THAT CURLS!"

"Shampoo-Curl" is a luscious new kind of Cream Shampoo. You have never used a shampoo that gives so much rich creamy lather—that leaves the hair so soft, lovely and beautiful.

And you have never used any method to curl your hair that is so safe, so quick and leaves you with masses of glorious, silky curls or deep shining waves.

Wet hair thoroughly. Apply SHAMPOO-CURL and rinse. Apply second application, leaving it on hair 3 to 5 minutes. Then rinse, set hair into favorite hair-do (waves, pin curls or curlers), and allow to dry. Then comb.
